25 YEAR RE-REVIEW

3 January 1951

General Omar N. Bradley, USA
The Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff
Department of Defense
Washington, D. C.

Dear General Bradley:

25X1

I had quite a long talk with [redacted] and subsequently she talked to the Assistant Director in charge of one of the divisions here and some of his people.

25X1

The administrative and clerical work of this Agency does not offer jobs which she wants to fill, and I do not think she would be satisfied if I were successful in persuading her to take one of these jobs. She is anxious to serve somewhat more actively but has not had either the general experience or the specific intelligence experience which would be required for such work. Under these circumstances and in fairness to [redacted] she was not encouraged to make a formal application for employment with this Agency.

Very sincerely,

signed
